Don't stand by, stand up
Don't be shy, speak out
Bystanders watching
Your silence is a weapon in the hands of the perpetrator

This is my world, too
It's up to me and you
Bystanders watching
Your silence is a weapon in the hands of the perpetrator

They say sticks and stones break our bones
But the names that they call when they walk the halls
They cut like knives
Hear me say that's not okay
And we'll speak out for one another all of our lives

Don't stand by, stand up...

If they put you down when I'm around
You can count on me to support you
I'll take your part
If they speak your name with hate and blame
I won't follow the leader, I'll follow my heart

Don't stand by, stand up...

I believe we can stop the madness
I believe we can heal the sadness
I believe that this is the hour
I believe that we have the power

We have the power
 I'll follow my heart
We have the power
 I'll follow my heart
We have the power
 I'll follow my heart
We have the power
 I'll follow my heart

Stand up!
