

Think Before You Speak
Words & Music by Susan Goodman
©2012 Soozaroo Music (ASCAP)

Think before you speak...

Put yourself in my shoes...
Think about the word you choose
See yourself through my eyes
Think before you speak
And do more damage than you realize

Don't diss me or my identity
It's not yours, don't use it like an obscenity
Your right to free speech has limits that end with me
And my right to safety and civility

Think before you speak...

This is my second home...
And it's a bias free zone
Think once, and twice, think some more...
'Cause what you say is what you stand for

If you choose to slander or debase
There are consequences you will face
Your right to free speech has limits that end with me
And my right to safety and civility

That's so... No way!
Think before you speak...

Don't use my identity like it's an obscenity

Think before you speak...

Does that trash you're talkin' make you proud
Or you just playin' to your little crowd
You know who I'm talkin' to
Think before you speak
Or your karma will be stalkin' you

Don't diss me or my identity
It's not yours, don't use it like an obscenity
Your right to free speech has limits that end with me
And my right to safety and civility

Think before you speak...

What you say is what you stand for